Data from third parties

16. In most cases we collect your data directly from you. In some situations we can also process your data which we get from third parties.

● External platforms

17. You can use our services available on external platforms (e.g. play our games available on game distribution platforms, such as Steam, PlayStation Network or Xbox Network) or connect with some of our other services with the use of external platforms. In such cases we can receive your data from these platform operators, according to the terms and conditions of service provision of the particular platforms.
18. Some of your data will be provided to us only if you turn on the collecting of optional data on your device. For example, if you agree to collecting of diagnostical data on the Xbox console you use to play our games, we will be able to receive and process additional details concerning your console, its settings, efficiency and ways of use, as well as extended reports on errors. We will process this type of data according to the terms and conditions determined by the platform operator (in the case of Xbox console data - for no longer than 28 days from the date of collecting the data).
19. External platform operators may process your data related to the use of our services also on their own behalf. To find out more about it, please read the terms and conditions of services and privacy policy of the external platform you're using.

Data sharing

● Partners

20. For our everyday business we use the tools and services provided by our trusted partners. When necessary, we provide them with your data and process it with these tools or within these services. We make sure to share with our partners only the data necessary for operating a certain tool or providing a given service. Before we start working with a partner, we check if they meet the necessary information security standards.
21. You'll find details about the partners who support us in specific processing purposes in the How we use your data section.

22. We can provide aggregated data concerning user behavior (e.g. sales data for particular regions) to selected partners (e.g. payment operators, data analytics providers). In such cases the partner has no way of identifying you, so your personal data is not processed.

- Public authorities

23. If the applicable law requires us to do so, we will share your data with the courts or public administration bodies concerned. This can concern a potential violation of law. In such cases we make sure that the request provided is true and lawful.

Processing data abroad

24. Your data can be processed by our partners from outside the European Economic Area (i.e. EU member countries and Norway, Island and Liechtenstein). We ensure the security of your data, providing it to countries which guarantee the proper level of protection or using the European Union's standard contractual clauses.

Profiling

 By “profiling” we mean drawing conclusions on the basis of your data, e.g. concerning your current or future preferences or interests.

25. We don't use algorithms to make automated decisions which could impact your legal situation. For example, we don't make automatic offers based on your behavior while playing our games.
26. At the same time, we use profiling in the following cases:

- Newsletters and marketing communication

27. We can profile your data in the case of customization or targeting of our marketing communication, offers and advertisements. This means that we can use the information we had collected to adjust the messages we send to your interests.

- RED Playtesting Program

28. The persons who conduct tests with the participation of users of our services will filter our testers' base on the basis of their preferences, gaming experience or other information from the entry form and choose the persons who will be invited to a particular test.

- CD PROJEKT RED Accounts

29. If you're using a CD PROJEKT RED Account, we can profile the data concerning CD PROJEKT games which are in your library and your activity in the games, to adjust our marketing communication to your interests and improve our services.

What we don't do with the data

• Processing children's data

30. We don't knowingly collect the data of persons below the age of 16. In the case of persons who are at least 16 years old but are not of legal age, we require the consent of the parent or carer.
31. If you are a parent or a carer and you have questions concerning the processing of data of the person in your care, write to us.

• Processing financial data

32. We don't process any information concerning your payments. The data you provide when making purchases remains on the side of the payment operator. If you make a purchase as part of the CD PROJEKT RED services, we will be informed by your payment operator of the fact and we will make sure your order is delivered. We won't get any of your financial data in the process. We only collect information concerning transaction dates, currencies, and the value of transactions and products concerned.

Cookies

33. We collect information about you through cookie files and other similar tools. When doing so, we use tools offered by other entities. If you want to know more or change your preferences, click the link "Declaration concerning cookie files" in the footnote of our websites.

Your rights

34. You have control over your data. Below we list your rights and situation in which you can exercise them. You can do it on your own, using the features available in some of our services or by contacting us directly.

Right	When you can exercise it
of access to data	in any situation
of rectification	if the data is incorrect or incomplete
of deletion	● if we no longer need the data to achieve the purpose for which we collected it

Right	When you can exercise it
	● if you withdraw the consent on which the data processing is based ● if you object to the processing of your data ● if we processed your data unlawfully ● if we should delete the data to meet our legal obligation to restriction of processing	● if the data is incorrect - for the period enabling us to check if they are correct ● if the data was processed unlawfully, but you don't want them to be deleted ● if we no longer need your data, but you may need it to pursue or defend against claims ● if you object to the processing of your data - until it's determined whether our interest outweighs the basis for your objection to data portability	if the processing is based on consent or a contract we signed and takes place in an automated way to object	if we process your data based on a legitimate interest and the objection is justified by your special circumstances
to complain	you can always lodge a complaint with the President of the Office for Personal Data Protection or with a local personal data protection office in your country of residence

35. If you live in California, the law of the state of California may grant you additional rights concerning the processing of your data. You can find out more information in the Privacy Statement for California Residents section.

Joint controllership

• Social media

36. If you visit our profiles on Facebook or LinkedIn, we process the data concerning your activity on these profiles as part of the aggregate statistics. To this end we cooperate with the operator of a given social media portal as joint controllers. Detailed rules for this cooperation are determined in a relevant joint controllership agreement. Regardless of the content of these agreements, you can use your rights both with regards to us, and the operator of a given social media platform. You can find details concerning joint controllership of your data below.

Portal	Shared controlling terms and conditions
Facebook/ Instagram	Meta Platforms Ireland Ltd., with its registered office at Merrion Road, Dublin 4, Republic of Ireland. The content of the joint controllership agreement: https://www.facebook.com/legal/terms/page_controller_addendum

Changes to this policy

37. We can change this policy when it's necessary for legal or practical reasons (e.g. to include the changes to our services). If this happens, we will publish the new policy on this website. You can track the changes at this link.

Privacy Statement for California Residents

38. We are CD PROJEKT S.A., a company incorporated in Poland (we will further call ourselves “CDPR”, “we”, “us” or “our”). We have included this California-specific information below to inform you about additional rights regarding our use of your personal information under the California Consumer Privacy Act of 2018 (“CCPA”) and other California privacy laws. This Privacy Statement applies only to visitors, users, and others who reside in the State of California (“users,” “you,” or “your”). Below, we explain our privacy practices and your rights regarding the collection, use, and disclosure of your personal information.

• Information we collect and use of personal information

39. Personal information is information that directly or indirectly identifies a particular user, household, or device. We described the categories of personal information we collected from users within the last twelve (12) months and are the purposes for which we may use said personal information in the How we use your data section, which you will find in the Privacy Policy above.

• Collection of personal information

40. We obtain personal information from various sources, including, but not limited to:
- Directly from you f.ex. information you give us when registering a CD PROJEKT RED Account;
 - Directly and indirectly from your activity on CDPR services;
 - From our vendors, affiliates and business partners that help deliver our services and functionalities to you f.ex. we use software and support ticket system to help us managing your customer support requests;
 - Social media, other platforms and other third-party accounts, if you choose to link them.

• Disclosure of personal information

41. You can find information on the reasons why we may disclose personal information in the Data sharing section of the Privacy Policy above.

Over the preceding twelve (12) months, we have disclosed for business purposes the categories of personal data indicated in the How we use your data section of our Privacy Policy with the categories of third parties described therein.

• Your rights

42. As a California resident, you have the following rights under the CCPA regarding your personal information:

- Access, update, and correct personal information

You have the right to request access to and receive the following information about personal information we maintain about you in the preceding 12 months.

(1) The categories of personal information we collected about you.

(2) The categories of sources from which the personal information is collected.

(3) The business or commercial purpose for collecting personal information.

(4) The categories of third parties to whom we sell or with whom we share your personal information.

(5) The specific pieces of personal information we collected about you (i.e. data portability rights).

(6) If we sold or disclosed your personal information for a business purpose, two separate lists disclosing: (i) sales, identifying the personal information categories that each category of recipient purchased; and (ii) disclosures for a business purpose, identifying the personal information categories that each category of recipient obtained.

- Right to opt-out of selling and sharing

We do not sell your data to third parties for any purpose. This means we do not disclose any of your data to third parties in exchange for monetary or other valuable consideration. However, we may share some of your data with third parties (our marketing partners) for the purpose of cross-context behavioral advertising.

You have the right, at any time, to opt-out of sale or sharing of your personal data. To do this, follow the dedicated "Do Not Sell or Share My Personal Information" link you will find in the footer of our websites to adjust your preferences.

In any case, we do not sell or share any sensitive personal information, as defined by the CCPA.

- Delete Personal Information

You have the right to request that we delete any of your personal information we collected and retained, subject to certain exceptions. Once we receive and verify your user request, we will delete your personal information from our records. However, we may deny your deletion request if retaining the information is necessary for us or our service providers under certain circumstances, which we will explain to you at the time of the denial, if any.

• Contact us

43. Whether or not you are currently a CDPR user, if you would like to exercise your rights regarding your personal information, or have any questions or comments concerning this Privacy Statement, please follow the instructions you will find in the Contact us section of the Privacy Policy above.

• Non-Discrimination

44. We will not discriminate against you for exercising any of your CCPA rights by offering different pricing or products, or by providing you with a different level or quality of products, or in connection with promotions or other offerings.

• Non-Personal Information

45. This Privacy Statement does not restrict our collection, use or disclosure of any aggregated information or information that does not identify, or cannot be reasonably linked to, any individual, which is defined under the CCPA as not personal information.

• Updates

46. We may change this Privacy Statement if we think it's necessary for legal reasons or to reflect changes in CDPR services. If so, we will make the changed Privacy Statement available online and (if you have a CD PROJEKT RED Account or you signed up to another CDPR service using your email address) we'll email you to explain the changes. We will also update the revision date. Any changes to this Privacy Statement will become effective when posted on our website.

Last revised: as indicated above.
